The first car will start at 5:40 A. M., and vehicles will continue to run resularly thereafter. continue to run regularly thereafter.

Sudden Demise.—A man named Thomas Pierson, a workman in Walker's Brewery, dieu very suddenly yesterday morning, as is supposed from an overdose of landanum, which he took for palpitation of the heart, from which he had a long time been suffering. The deceased was a member of Mohawk Lodge I. O. O. F., and was much esteemed by those who knew him best.

An Illinois Horse Thiry Sent Horse you Thal.—A requisition for Jackson Heath, charged with stealing a horse in Gallatin County, Illinois, was received in this city day before yesterday from the Governor of that State, and the criminal placed in the charge of Deputy Sheriff S. N. Hardin, who immediately left on the steamer Glendale. It will be remembered that Heath attempted to dispose of the horse at auction, on Fifth-strest, but was apprehended and confined in our jail where he has remained ever since.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSION ESS.—At the regular diurnal session of the County Commissioners, held yesterday morning, orders were passed amounting in the aggregate to $376 40, of which $85 were paid to F. Strong for stone work and excavating for the abutments of a bridge near Carthage; $131 40 to James McCoy, for glass for the South-western Lunatic Asylum; and $160 to John Voge, for removing lunatics from the old to new asylum. Daniel Kline was dis-charged from the County Jail because of ina-bility to pay the fines and costs charged against him. No other business of import-ance was transacted. ince was transacted.

THE SAYERS AND HERNAN FIGHT—EXTENSIVE BETTING IN THE CITY.— Many of our citizens seem very anxious as to the result of the Sayers and Heenan "mill," and great disappointment was expressed yesterday that the steamer brought no intelligence of the fight. This interest no doubt partially arises from the fact that the betting here, where Heenan has a number of personal friends, has been quite extensive—no less than $50,000, we feel authorized to state, having been wagered on the result. This betting is, of course, mostly among the fancy and sporting men, several of whom have staked $2,000 to $4,000 each on the issue of the combat.

MERTING OF THE TRUSTRES OF THE SOUTH-WESTERN LUNATIC ABYLUM.—The Trustees and Superintendent of the South-western Lunatic Asylum met at the office of the County Commissioners, yesterday afternoon, at which time the Commissioners set aside a sum of money, to be drawn by the steward, B. T. Thorburn, as disbursing agent of the institution. This money will be paid to him in sums of $1,000, which is to be accounted for by him, before another payment is made, to the Trustees and Superintendent. These settlements are to be made whenever another appropriation is needed, and to be presented to the Commissioners, signed by the Superintendent and two of the Trustees.

The Late Quadri-Centennial Anniversary of the Ya. M. M. L. Association.—The committee of one hundred appointed to take charge of the late quadri-centennial anniversary of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association held a meeting night before last. A SYMPATHETIC KRETUCKIAN ADBOITLY SWINDLED—GENEROSITY A CONTLY LUXURY. A man named F. W. McDaniel, who resides at Munfordsville, Hart County, Ky., was adroitly swindled yesterday morning by a couple of well-dressed men whom he met on board the Jacob Strader, under the following circumstances: One of the men had a bill, purporting to come from the Spencer House for board, which the second party was unable to pay. Mr. McDaniel was accosted by name, by one of the swindlers, who stated that he resided in Louisville, and while on his way home his sister, who accompanied him, had fallen sick while at the Spencer, and detained him so long that be had become embarrassed for funds.

He now wished to leave the city on the Strader, but was unable to pay his hotel bill, and he therefore proposed to Mr. McD. to advance him the amount of the bill, $46, and take his watch as security until the boat resched Louisville at whet time the mount. A SYMPATRETIC KENTUCKIAN ADBOITLY advance him the amount of the bill, $46, and take his watch as security until the boat reached Louisville, at which time the money would be refunded.

The story of the sick girl and the young man's apparent truthfulness, roused the sympathies of the generous-hearted Kentuckian, and he readily agreed to relieve the young man from his embarrassment. The bill was paid and the psendo-clerk took his departure.

After a short time spent in conversation with Mr. McDaniel, the young man left for the ostensible purpose of bringing his sixter to the boat, but, as might have been expected, has not since been seen. When the steamer was about leaving the wharf, the Kentuckian told the Captaina sick girl would soon be down from the Spencer House, and requested him to wait, but after he had heard the circumstances, the trick was discovered. The watch proved to be entirely worthless, and the boat, with the chagrined but sympathetic victim, left the city.

CIRCULAROF THE CINCINNATI AGRICULTURAL AND MEGHANICAL ASSOCIATION,—It has been the custom of the various industrial interests of this country to hold fairs, and give exhibitions, at least once in each year; and the experience of the past shows conclusively that this is good policy.

It is also susceptible of demonstration that while each of the great divisions of these interests stands apart from the others, and holds its fairs separately, its powers of attraction, and consequently its advantages are proportionately limited.

From these considerations, it is proposed to CIRCULAROF THE CINCINNATI AGRICULTURAL proportionately limited.

From these considerations, it is proposed to unite them all in one grand display, and thus give to each all the advantages of the whole combined. The more effectually to accomplish this most desirable work, the first steps have been taken to purchase and prepare, on a magnificent scale, suitable grounds for a permanent fair, similar to one now in successful operation at St. Louis, Mo.

Attractions, such as would thus be presented, would necessarily bring immense numbers of people into the city, and by this the hotels and railroads would be greatly benefitted; the merchant and manufacturer would also derive an advantage from this influx of customers, as well as from the fact that they thus establish a perpetual advertisement extending over a wide region of country.

Aside from considerations of fairs and exhibitions, the citizens would have a pleasant place of resort, at all seasons, when a ride in the country is desirable; for, the ground being

It is proposed to form a stock company to raise the necessary funds for this enterprise, and books for subscription to the stock are now open and in the hands of well-known citizens.

It is important that this receive immediate attention, as the preparations for exhibitions this year will require all the time that can now be devoted to them.

The books may be found at the Merchants' Exchange, Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Exchange, and at the office of Miles Greenwood, Robert Mitchell and Alex. B. Latta.

A NEGRO PACKED IN A CRAYE AND BROUGHT TO THIS CITY.—We were informed yesterday under a promise to disclose no names, how under a promise to disclose no names, nowever, that a negro had been packed in a crate and shipped upon a steamboat at Clarksville, Tennessee, for this city, where he arrived safely, was unloaded, and finally disposed of after the most approved underground railway style. The trick was unknown to every person on board the boat, save the fireman, who farnished the runaway with food during the massage and after he had been carried the passage, and after he had been carrie from the steamer, and finally disposed o told the Captain of the circumstance. Speers at $60 per front foot—$1,580; lot adjoining, same size, to James Watson, at $55 per front foot—$1,540; two lots on Poplar-street, near John, 25 feet east by 87, at $29 per front foot—$1,450; lot on Monroe-street, near Elm, to Thomas Kirby; lot 27 feet by 90 to Michael Popp, at $37,50 per front foot—$942 50. Total, $5,612 50.

HEAVY ROBBERY IN POLETOWS.—A man named John Deerwester was committed to juil yesterday, by Justice Mahan, of Polktown, to await trial at the next term, upon a charge of stealing $391 from Hamilton Pollock, who is Treasurer of that precinct. It is alleged that Deerwester entered the office of the Treasurer and abstracted the money from his desk; but, as the case was stated to us, it does not seem quite clear, and the bungling magistrate has made so many errors in the commitment that it is extremely doubtful whether he can be held under it.

GENERAL TERM.—C. J. Adams vs. Warren Stagg and others.—Before the Court on demurrer to the petition. HABILTON COUNTY DISTRICT COURT.

Under the law of March 9, 1859, Olive Jane Bowen and Fanny Bowen, of the ages of ten and six years, were adopted by J. T. Morse and wife. The father of the children, David Bowen, aged about forty-five years, was al-leged to be in infirm health and a mute.

RIBON WHILE HER BABES ARE DYING IN THE PRISON WHILE HER BARRS ARE DYING IN THE HOSPITAL—Many persons are given to boast-ing of our civilization, refinement, and the general peace, prosperity and happiness of our city and country, but circumstances are occurring every day in our midst that would not happen in Central Africa or Patagonia. Night before last, Lieutenant Brockington visited a house called Murray's Brick, on the south-east corner of Seventh and Hroadway.

right before last, Leutenant Brockington visited a house called Murray's Brick, on the south-east corner of Seventh and Broadway, and found a couple of children in an apparently moribund condition, while their mother lay upon the floor in a state of unconscious drunkenness.

Yesterday morning, the woman, whose name is Margaret Dillon, was sent to the City Prison for a term of twenty days, while, at the same moment almost, the children were dying in the Commercial Hospital. The babes—Margaret, two, and Edwin, three, years of age; the former at one, the latter at three, o'clock—passed from this life, and few will wish they had lived longer. Drunkenness may be a crime to be explated by imprisonment, but we do not believe it, and particularly is it untrue under such circumstances.

Last evening Coroner Carey began to hold an inquest upon the bodies, but adjourned before a verdict had been rendered, until nine o'clock this morning. It is more than probable that one of the children died of congestion of the lungs, and the other of constitutes.

STABBING AFFRAY.—A stabbing affray occurred on the levee, near the foot of Sycamore-street, last night, about nine o'clock, in which a man named Thos. Ford received a severe cut in the neck, from a dirk in the hands of a man named Daniel Corbith. The assailant was soon after arrested by officers Harvey and Collom, and lodged in the Hammond-street Station-house, to await an examination in the Police Court this morning.

ARREST OF THE ALLEGED PERFERENCE OF A ROBBERY.—Officers Jenifer and Ricketts, last night, arrested a man named George Richards, upon a charge of stealing a watch worth $40 from another named Thomas Hinder. The robbery was committed about ten days ago, but Richards, in spite of the vigilance of the police, managed to escape them until last night, when he was taken in a drunken row on Sixth-street. Arrest of an Ineane Man.—An insane man who gives his name as Edward Dare, was arrested last night near the Ohio and Mississippi Rallroad Depot, having arrived in the city on the ten o clock train. The Missouri minority will report the Cincinnati Platform, with a general approval of the decision of the Supreme Court, and an obligation to return fugitive slaves.

1730 F. M.—It is estimated that 180 votes will be cast against the majority platform. The delegations from Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee are divided.

Chauleston, April 27.—Mr. Avery, although representing fifteen slave States and two free States, denies that any feeling of sectionalism influenced the majority.

Mr. Clark, of Missouri, although he signed the majority report, says he did not and would not vote for the third resolution, which is:

Resolved, That it is the duty of the Federal Government to protect when necessary the rights of persons and property on the high seas, in the Territories, or wherever its constitutional authority extends.

Mr. Avery called attention to the fact that the majority report represents one hundred and twenty-seven certain Democratic electoral votes, while the minority does not represent one electoral vote that can be claimed as certain. He regards squatter sovereignty as subversive of the rights of the South, as Congressional intervention would be. He classed it with the Wilmot Proviso, being equally as subversive of Southern rights.

The Convention met at ten o'clock.

Mr. King, of Missouri, presented a series of resolutions favoring the admission of the delegates from Kansas, who claimed seats on the ground that she would be admitted into the Union before the election. Referred to the Committee.

An announcement was made at 10:30, that the Committee on Platform would not be ready to report for an hour, and a temporary recess or promenade was taken for that time. The floor being crowded with ladies, as well as the western galleries, there was a chatter of tongues and peal after peal of laughter going on that was in strong antagonism to the suspended excitement of the Convention.

After recess printed copies of the majority platform report were scattered over

One of the minority reports was signed.

The points are as follows:

1st. Affirming the Cincinnati Platform.

2d. That all rights of property are judicial in character, and the Democracy pledge themselves to the decisions of the Supreme Court on the subject.

3d. Ample protection to the citizens, native or naturalized, whether at home or abroad.

6th. That all State resistance to the Fugitive-slave Law is revolutionary and subversive to the Constitution

The majority report is in substance as already telegraphed.

At thirty minutes past cleven A. M. the Convention re-assembled. The majority report was read by Mr. Avery, who was instructed to say that entire unanimity did not prevail on a portion of the resolution. The first and third resolutions in relation to slavery in the Territories, and the duty of the General Government to protect the rights of persons, were adopted by a large majority of the Convention. The second, in relation to the Fugitive-slave Law, and the fourth, relative to naturalized citizens, were adopted unanimously.

The fifth in favor of the acquisition of relative to naturalized citizens, were adopted unanimously.

The fifth, in favor of the acquisition of Cuba, was adopted without division. The two minority reports were presented by Mr. Butler, of Maes, and Mr. Payne, of Chio; the latter stating that his report, although a minority one, represented 172 electoral votes, while the majority report represented 127 electoral votes.

Mr. Johnson, or Md., inquired how many of the electoral votes represented by the minority reports can be depended upon for the Democratic nominee. (Langiter and applause.)

Mr. Payne offered his platform as a substi-tute for the whole, and a Massachusetts dele-gate proposed another set.

All the reports having been presented, Mr. Avery addressed the Convention, claiming that his, report represented 17 Democratic States of the Union that his report represented 17 Democratic States of the Union.

He alluded to the fact that Mexico and Cuba, with Central America, would inevitably form a part of the Union, and with the popular soversignity doctrine as proclaimed in the minority report, no slaveholder would dare to cuter those Territories with his slaves, it was said that Northern men did not like to be thrown into association with alayeholders, and he appealed to gentlemen to correct that error, and to prove to the South that the Democratic party at the North entortained no such sentiment. There is a distrust among the masses of the people of their Northern allies. We sympathize with you when you are called doughfaces at the North, and we sake you to give us the eridence that our sympathies are well piaced.

Mr. Payne, of Ohio, addressed the Convention in behalf of the minority report. He did not desire any personal victory, but those whom he represented believed that in the harmonious settlement of these difficulties.

depends the existence of the Democratic party, and the prosperity and perpetuity of the Union.

The Democracy of the North have stood by the South in good faith. There never had been but one construction put upon the slavery clauses of the Cincinnati Platform, and he challenged any man to show that it had ever been differently construed, even on the floors of Congress.

Mr. Payne read to the Convention the opinions of Secretary Toucey and Vice President Breckinridge against the measure to legislate slavery into the Territories, and that the people of each Territory shall settle the matter for themselver, and be admitted into the Union with or without slavery, as they may determine; and said that he could show that every distinguished Southern statesman, since 1850, had planted himself on the squatter sovereignty platform of non-intervention by Congress.

He also quoted from Mesers, Toombs, Hunter, Mason, and other Southern Democratic statesmen, maintaining the same ground of non-intervention, and concluded by saying we cannot recede from this dectrine without personal dishonor; and so help us God we never will abandon this principle. (Sensation). If the majority report is adopted you can not expect one Northern electoral vote or one sympathizing member of Congress from the free States.

Mr. Payne's concluding appeal to the South was very powerful, and was listened to wish attention. He urged them not to destroy the Democratic party for a mere abstraction.

An incuse excitement exists. A large crowd is collected in front of the Mills House listening to disunion speeches. The crowd rushed into the room of the New York delegation, but were driven out by the police. The minority or compromise report will be adopted by 180 majority. Five States will bolt and nominate Davis or Lane and Wood. Douglas's friends predict his nomination tomorrow. He has 23 votes in the New York delegation have rejected the platform by a large majority. All but Rynders, Fowler, Jewett, and a few office-leolders favored the minority report.

committee was appointed to prepare a New York platform to be submitted as a substitute. Pennsylvania and New Jersey did not sign the minority report. They are preparing a substitute.

The following resolution of Mr. Cochrane, of N. Y., has just been circulated, and which he proposes to offer as a substitute for all the other propositions, in addition to the Cincinnati Platform:

Resolved, That the several States of the Union are under the Constitution equal, and that the people thereof are entitled to free and undisturbed possession and employment of their rights of person and property in the common Territory, and, that any attempt by Congress or a Territorial Legislature to annul, abridge or discriminate against any such equality or rights, would be unwise in policy and repugnant to the Constitution; and that it is the duty of the Federal Government, when ever such rights are violated, to afford the necessary, proper and constitutional remedies for such violation.

Mr. Butler, of Mass., who reported the Gincinnati Platform, pure and simple, addressed the Convention in view of his position and inability to agree with either minority or majority. The clause relative to the protection of slave property on the seas, he cautioned them would be regarded by their opponents as an attempt to re-open the slave-trade. In alluding to the remarks of Mr. Johnson, of Md., with regard to non-Democratic States, said it was the kettle calling the pot black.

Mr. Johnson replied that Maryland had never countenanced or encouraged resistance to the Fugitive Slave-law, and had maintained a national position in the Union.

Mr. Butler would say that Massachusetts had never been under a rule that prevented a man from voting his sentiments for fear of the bludgeon or bullet. [Loud and prolonged applause.]

Mr. Johnson desired to reply, but Mr. Butler would not yield, saying, however, that he did not blame the Democratic party for the lough along alone, and the Convention took

Mr. Barksdale, of Miss., proceeded with a violent but cloquent Southern speech. He declared that when the Democratic party dies the Constitution will die with it; that if the party failed in its duty now, it will be more dead than if defeated at the polls.

Gov. King addressed the Convention in favor of harmony and conciliation. Delegates came here instructed to do the best that could be done for the Democratic party. The majority report has a sting of deeth in it. He would vote for the minority report as a

He spoke of the Black Republicans as men who are about as sharp as men usually get, and said they would ridicule their majority platform as Janus-faced and contradictory.

HOUSE—Mr. Curtis asked leave to offer a resolution directing the Secretary of War to communicate to the Military Committee a full plan and schedule of the floating battery now in course of construction in the vicinity of New York harbor, the amount of money expended thereon and the estimated cost of completing the same, and that the Military Committee report such changes as may be consistent with the public interests.

Mr., Curtis said it was time that the country knew something about the battery, the peculiar construction of which had been kept a perfect secret.

mr. Houston said it was unusual to direct an Executive Officer to report to a committee.

Mr. Curtis explained that the reason for this was that the Committee may examine and determine the propriety of the construction of Stevens's battery. If proper, the work will go on. If any thing was necessary to be kept secret this could be done.

Mr. Houston thought it were better for him to chiect.

The Commissioner, therefore, remanded him. Soon after, Judge Gouldissued a habeas corpuse for the fugitive, and the same was served by a Deputy Sheriff of this County. Successful resistance was made for some time, when the rescuers gaining advantage, the negro was carried to the river, where a ferryman was in waiting. He was rowed across, and on arriving on the opposite shore was re-arrested by a West Troy Constable. Here another great crowd gathered. The fugitive was taken to a Justice's office, which the meb surrounded, broke into, and the fugitive was again rescued from the officers and carried off in a carriage. Blows, pisted shots, and knock-downs occurred during the affair, but no one was severely injured. Colored people were most active in the rescue.
